PRESIDENT DONS LIFE PRESERVER

Wilson Practices Lifeboat Drill When Danger Signal Is Given Aboard Ship.

MAKES GOOD SCHOLAR

Executive Summons Mrs. Wilson and Together They Take Their Place in Line Ready to Abandon the Vessel.

On Board the U. S. S. George Washington, Dec. 6.—President Wilson stood the same test that American soldiers have been undergoing on their way to France.

The chief executive of the United States was forced hastily to don a life preserver and prepared to abandon a ship which, theoretically, had been attacked by a submarine.

The alarm bell and the "buzzer" in the President's apartment gave the signal to prepare to take to the boats.

Previously having been instructed by Captain McAdoo, President Wilson left his office, called Mrs. Wilson and led her to a lifeboat.

The President assisted Mrs. Wilson in adjusting her life preserver and then they stood in line waiting.

Meantime, all the ship's company was doing the same as the President. The drill was perfectly conducted, and the passengers on board the George Washington could have abandoned ship in 10 minutes.

Seven of the twelve destroyers escorting the George Washington turned back.

High Power Radio Working.

Washington, Dec. 6.—The Navy department announced that it has been in continuous communication by radio with the steamer George Washington since it left New York with President Wilson and his party on board. No information was given as to the kind of weather the vessel and her convoy fleet had encountered or their position.

At the White House it was said that no communications from the President had been received, but it was explained that the President had left his desk clear and that no matters of importance requiring his attention had developed since he left Washington.

Special Arrangements Made.

The department's announcement disclosed special arrangements never before used were made for handling the President's messages and to insure his being in constant touch with Washington.

"The George Washington and the battleship Pennsylvania," said the statement, "are both equipped with the most powerful transmitting apparatus, some of which was installed for this particular ship."

"All messages for the President are sent by the new naval high-power station at Annapolis, which is five times as powerful as the Arlington station. These messages are received by the George Washington and the Pennsylvania simultaneously. All replies are forwarded from the George Washington to the Pennsylvania and relayed to shore by the Pennsylvania."

MONTH'S PAY AS GRATUITY

Secretary Baker Asks Donation for Soldiers and Nurses.

Washington, Dec. 6.—Congress was urged by Secretary Baker to authorize the payment of a gratuity of one month's pay to all soldiers, army nurses and army field clerks. Later a bill was introduced containing these provisions.

Men in the regular army would receive the money as soon as possible and others would receive the gratuity on discharge.

Rapid demobilization, Secretary Baker said, demands early action.

Airplane Burns; Sets House Afire.

Little Rock, Ark., Dec. 6.—A local insurance firm has been notified of the burning of a house at Marked Tree, Ark., as a result of an airplane accident. The report said that an aviator from Park Field, Memphis, lost control of his plane yesterday afternoon and with his machine fell on the roof of the residence of E. L. Pierce. The plane's gasoline tank exploded, setting fire to the house, which was destroyed. The report said that the aviator escaped with minor injuries.

CARTER GLASS

Succeeds W. G. McAdoo as Secretary of Treasury.

Representative Carter Glass of Virginia was nominated by President Wilson to be Secretary of the Treasury. Mr. Glass will go into office on Dec. 16, under an agreement with Secretary McAdoo, whose resignation was accepted by the President to take effect upon the appointment and qualification of his successor.

BORAH FILES RESOLUTION

Asks Senate to Reaffirm Belief in Monroe Doctrine.

Guns Fired Monster Shells.

New York, Dec. 6.—America's famous "land battery" of 50 caliber 14.5-inch naval guns, which played so important a part in the German defeat, was described for the first time in detail by Lieut. Com. D. C. Boel of the naval reserve, at the annual meeting here of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers. The seven guns of the battery, he said, were built in 1917 for use on battleships. They fired a 1,400-pound projectile at a muzzle velocity of 2,800 feet per second with a range of nearly 30 miles.

Twenty-Three Other Men Are Hurt in Blast Which is Felt For Miles.

Pompton Lakes, N. J., Dec. 6.—Twelve men killed and twenty-three injured here by four explosions which destroyed the detonator assembling building of the DuPont cap works and shook the countryside for miles around. Fire which followed the explosions was confined to the one unit. Property loss is said to be slight.

With the first blast hundreds of men, women and children who had relatives working at the plant hastened to the scene, but because of possible danger guards barred them.

Officials of the company said they believed an employee at work assembling French fuse detonators, which are filled with fulminate of mercury, had dropped one of them. Exploding, this had set off the stock in the building, which officials claim contained only 25 or 30 pounds of fulminate.

REIGN OF TERROR MAY BREAK OUT

Revolution Under Leadership of Radical Socialists Is Predicted for Germany.

BERLIN IS IN ANARCHY

U. S. Government Has Expressed No Opinion On Extradition of Former Kaiser—Extension of Armistice Reported Likely.

Paris, Dec. 6.—A terrorist revolution under the leadership of Dr. Karl Liebknecht, the radical socialist, will break out in Berlin, Friday evening, according to advices received by Zurich correspondent of the Paris Journal. Liebknecht, the report says, has 15,000 men well armed. The population of Berlin, according to reports, is at the mercy of gangs of marauders and there appears to be no authority.

Washington, Dec. 6.—The United States government has neither been approached nor has it expressed any opinion on the subject of extradition and punishment of the former German Kaiser.

London, Dec. 6.—The Evening Standard says it understands the armistice will be extended.

To Maintain Sea Supremacy.

London, Dec. 6.—The British government will tolerate no limitation of the British navy by the peace conference, has decided on the nationalization of railways and deems it unnecessary to demand the return of Heligoland to Great Britain from Germany. Winston Spencer Churchill, minister of munitions, announced in a speech at Dundee.

"We enter the peace conference," said Mr. Churchill, "with the absolute determination that no limitation shall be imposed on our right to maintain our naval defenses."

"We do not intend, no matter what arguments and appeals are addressed to us, to lend ourselves in any way to any fettering restrictions which will prevent the British navy maintaining its well tried and well deserved supremacy."

The island of Heligoland, formerly Danish, was ceded to Great Britain in 1814. In 1899 Great Britain ceded it to Germany, who began developing it into an extremely important naval base.

It lies in the North sea off the mouths of the Elbe and Weser rivers and of the entrance to the Kiel canal, which it dominates.

Friars Play Piano in Middle of Fifth Avenue to Help Swell Fund for United War Workers

Fifth avenue used to belong to society. Society is still allowed to promenade there, but it must have its pocketbooks ready nowadays. It has been the best hunting ground in New York for sellers of Liberty Bonds and War Savings Stamps. Now it is in possession of the volunteers who are putting the United War Work Campaign to raise $170,500,000 over the top. This photograph shows a piano and singers right in the middle of that once sacred avenue stimulating the donation that are helping the Friars in their fight to outdo the Lambs.

A Well Known Employer Said:

"What is the matter with our young men and women? I have the utmost difficulty in finding people to fill positions of responsibility."

"Stenographers come to us who can't spell or concentrate their minds on their work; boys start in our office who seem utterly insensitive to the possibilities which come with diligence; grown men plod along and seem determined to yield as little of their better selves as possible; the person with initiative is a rarity."

"Meanwhile the best positions go begging."

"Once in a while we find one who is alive to opportunity, and we concentrate our efforts upon this type of employee with a view to fitting them for the best positions."

"We are always glad to find that an employee has a Savings Account, for then we know that there is a strong influence at work developing his character and adding to his integrity of purpose. Give me the boy who saves to make the man worth while."

AL BROMAN AT A NAVAL BASE

Brainerd Dispatch Printer in Letter to Fred Britton Tells of His Experiences

NAVY IS GREAT STUFF SAYS AL
Qualified for Sharpshooter, Getting 83 Out of a Hundred at the Range Targets

Al Broman, Brainerd Dispatch printer in the navy, has written Fred Britton of the Dispatch force a letter describing experiences. He says:
Naval Operating Base, Nov. 7, 1918.

Friend Fred:
Just to let you know that I am still living and getting along fine in the navy. I left the Great Lakes Oct. 31 for Hampton Roads, Va., or Norfolk rather, as they are not very far apart. We had 14 coaches, all Pullman cars, and there were over 500 Jackies on the train.

I enjoyed the trip very much as everything is new to me. I had a look at the Blue Ridge mountains, but missed the Alleghany mountains, as we went through them during the night. Saw all kinds of cotton and peanut fields in Virginia.

All you see down here is darkies, mules and two-wheel dump carts. I never saw so many negroes in all my life.

Well Fred, I forgot to say that we got to Norfolk, Va., at 6 o'clock Saturday night and we had to get our baggage out and put it on a big boat and we started down the Chesapeake Bay which took an hour and a half and by the time we got chow it was 9 o'clock. There were no lights, so we had to eat in the dark and swing our hammocks also. Oh, this navy is great stuff and when I get out I will be able to do anything underneath the sun.

The next day was Sunday and I was going down to the bay and rest up when the first thing the commander came around and said: "Everybody turn to and wash your hammocks and sea bag."

Can you imagine how I felt doing anything like that after riding two days and two nights on that train, but it had to be done, so that's all there was to it. And then he came around in the afternoon and said to have everything ready as we were going to leave Monday morning at 7:30. So that kept me busy for a couple of more hours.

On Monday morning we left for the rifle range and I sure was glad to go. We went to Norfolk by boat and the rest of the way by electric, its about 40 miles. All we do on the range is shoot all day long and set targets. The first day I qualified for marksman, making 75 out of a hundred. The next day I set targets. Today I qualified for sharpshooter, making 83 out of a hundred. So tomorrow I've a chance to shoot for expert. I don't know how I will make it, but I am going to do my best, as I might get a little badge to show which will come in handy some day.

This stuff on the range is great. They leave us smoke in the barracks and anything you do goes. We don't get up until 6:30 and you don't have to be in bed at 9 if you don't want to. When you roll out in the morning, you don't have to lash your hammock or air your bedding in the afternoon. The chow is great as there are just about 400 men on the range. So we get all we want. I am getting fat as a pig, as all I do is lay around and shoot at the bulls-eye from morning till night.

The weather is great. They are wearing straw hats and the kids are going around barefooted. I'll bet it's cold in the office in the morning. I suppose you're jumping on the kid to fire up.

I have seen the Atlantic and also two warships and expect to be on one in a short while. Was writing the Y. M. C. A. last night and they had a movie on and I did not

At the Best Today

Booted and spurred, with chaps and a wide sombrero, Charles Ray, the famous Thomas H. Ince star, is the central figure of the story of "Playing the Game," his newest Paramount picture, which has just been released. This is a strong story of the southwest. After a brief period along the Great White Way in New York, Mr. Ray, as Larry Prentiss, a disgraced son of a millionaire, who had left him a vast fortune, has been leading a wild life and one night at a dinner given to some friends, he knocks down and apparently kills Hickey Trent. In the belief that he is a murderer, Larry goes to Arizona to begin life anew.

While there Larry has many adventures, including holdups and other thrilling events, and he finally lands as a cowboy upon his own ranch, his identity being unknown to his employees. Here he meets and courts Moya Shannon, the daughter of the manager, and after a series of highly dramatic occurrences avows his love for the girl who naturally reciprocates.

"Playing the Game" is said to be one of the best pictures in which Mr.
Ray has been seen in many months.
It will be shown at the Best theatre

At the Best Tomorrow

Owing to an error in bookings,
Charles Ray in "Playing the Game," will be at the Best today and Madge Kennedy tomorrow.

Youth and beauty triumph over sham and suspicion in "The Kingdom of Youth," Madge Kennedy's intensely thrilling and modern Goldwyn Picture, which comes to the Best theatre tomorrow. The charming star has a role particularly suited to her remarkable comedy and dramatic talents.

The picture tells the story of a truly loving couple, torn with suspicion by jealousy; of a scheming middle-aged woman, who seeks to win the love of a man half her age, and who is later exposed in all her falsity by the beautiful young woman she has tried to separate from her husband.

The widow arranges that Ruth Betts (Madge Kennedy) shall be seen constantly with Count Henri Duval, whom she uses to prove to Ruth's husband that his wife is unfaithful. Ruth suspects that the widow's "motherly" affections for her husband are too pronounced and accuses her of trying to win his love.
The interloper defies her and Ruth plans to have her husband see the widow unadorned with all her false frills. Ruth starts a fire with some greasy waste in a drip pan and places it at the door of the widow's boudoir.
The widow rushes into the street in night attire and Ruth triumphs as her husband sees her rival as she really is.

FOR THE THANKSGIVING TABLE.

For the breakfast on Thanksgiving day, when all the good things our purses and markets can furnish are planned for the dinner, let us not forget to serve:

Chestnut Pancakes.—Beat separately the yolks and whites of three eggs, add three-quarters of a cupful of cream, a tablespoonful each of fat and sugar, with sufficient flour (using corn flour) and two tablespoonfuls of baking powder, to make a batter. When the cakes are baked spread each with mashed and seasoned chestnuts.

Frozen Cranberries.—This makes a most delightful change from the ordinary method of serving cranberries.
Pick over and wash a quart of fine berries. Add two cupfuls of sugar and two cupfuls of water and when boiling add the berries. Cook until soft; cool and add one-half cupful of lemon juice. Rub through a sieve, turn into a melon mold and bury in ice and salt for four hours. When ready to serve unmold and send at once to the table.

Pear and Tomato Salad.—This is a combination especially good, and not at all common. Take small even-sized tomatoes, peel and cut in petal-shaped pieces without separating them, so that the tomato lies like an open flower. Peel ripe pears and slice on a vegetable slicer into strings; heap over the tomato, add French dressing and a little minced celery. The dressing should be well seasoned and a generous portion of cayenne added.

Thanksgiving Pudding.—To two cupfuls of fine bread crumbs, softened with a cupful of grape juice, add three well-beaten eggs, one-half cupful each of brown sugar and molasses, salt, cinnamon and nutmeg to taste. Mix well and add one cupful of raisins, chopped, one-half cupful of dried currants, one-quarter of a cupful of candied orange peel and half a cupful of nut-meats, all well dredged with flour. Set two teaspoonfuls of baking powder with one-half cupful of flour and add, beating well. Put into well-buttered molds and steam three hours. Garnish the pudding with nut meats when serving.

GLASS OF SALTS CLEANS KIDNEYS

If your Back is aching or Bladder bothers, drink lots of water and eat less meat.

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore, don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salts which removes the body's urinous waste and stimulates them to their normal activity. The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 600 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of water—you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys will act fine.
This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this, also keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache.

WHAT IS SOCIALISM?

A man may say that he is a Socialist. But by that he has not told what sort of a Socialist he is. When it comes to defining his own socialism, he may find to his surprise that he does not know himself. And if he begins to inquire of the Socialist literature, he will discover that there are diverse and sundry sorts of Socialists, that new kinds of socialism are constantly being developed and old kinds modified.

There is German socialism, which is Marxian and neo-Marxian. There is French socialism, which has several different masters. There is English socialism, but the members of the Fabian Society in England never did agree. In America there is socialism imported from Germany such as Victor Berger represents, and socialism of other varieties, or confessed as different anyhow by men like John Spargo, A. M. Simons and Charles Edward Russell.

There is one certain thing and that is that if Socialists had power tomorrow to put into practice their ideas, they would separate into ninety-and-nine more or less antagonistic groups. Lenin and Trotsky in Russia say they are applying the Marxian philosophy. The German Socialists say now that they will not have any Bolshevism in Germany. The French Socialists say German Socialists are not Socialists at all, and so on and so on.

Socialist in Europe has become a party name. The political Socialist is very different from the theoretical Socialist. And they all divide and divide into factions, and still more factions.

There is a body of Socialist philosophy. But the statesman of the labor movement, Samuel Gompers, has this to say of it:

I want to tell you Socialists that I have studied your philosophy; read your works upon economics, and not the meanest of them; studied your standard works both in English and German—have not only read, but studied them. I have heard your orators and watched the work of your movement the world over. I have kept close watch upon your doctrines for thirty years; have been closely associated with many of you, and know how you think and what you propose. I know, too, what you have up your sleeve. And I want to say that I am entirely at variance with your philosophy. I declare it to you. I am not only at variance with your philosophy. Economically, you are unsound; socially, you are wrong; industrially, you are impossible.

Take all the books of socialism. Lump all the platforms of the Socialist parties. After cutting out all the non-essential divergencies, and boiling down the residue, what do you get?

So far as socialism makes for abolition of abuses and for attainment of betterments economic and social, well and good. But socialism, all of it, cherishes an illusion and proceeds upon a fallacy. It would like to abolish work, or since that cannot altogether be done, to pare work down to such a smallness that nobody could complain, not even the sluggard.

Socialism would establish a Utopia, a material paradise. It is very human, indeed, to wish to work no more, or so little as not to inconvenience oneself. But when men stop work, hard work, they starve. See Russia.

It is conceivable that socialism in one of its various forms may be able to subvert society, to occasion losses, troubles, disaster. It may even kill the patient, but itself can never survive. It contains its own doom. If allowed a career, it would in the sequel catastrophe quickly demonstrate its own innate absurdity. It essays to abolish necessity. But all that this world of nature constitutes for us human creatures, is a collection of necessities to which we are bound, from which we can have no release save through death.—Minneapolis Journal.

McADOO CONFERS WITH ADVISERS

Discusses Plans for Supervising Railroads When Returned to Their Owners.

TWO IDEAS DEVELOPING

One Proposal is to Have Lines Merge Into Real Groups, With Common Operating Management to Start With.

Washington, Dec. 6.—It is said that a new director general of railroads to succeed William G. McAdoo may not be named for two weeks or more.

The resignation of Robert S. Lovett as director of the railroad administration's division of capital expenditures, and his insistence on going back to his former duties as chairman of the executive committee of the Union Pacific, was considered as having left Mr. McAdoo without a candidate immediately at hand to recommend to President Wilson.

McAdoo Looking for Man. It was stated authoritatively that the director-general is now looking about for men whom he may propose and it is considered probable that some one outside the railroad administration staff will be chosen.

Mr. McAdoo conferred with his advisory staff of the railroad administration concerning proposed plans for supervising railroads when they are turned back to private management.

Two differing plans are understood to have developed. One proposal is to have the railroads merge into real groups, with common operating management to start, and eventually to develop into common ownership with the roads themselves selecting their region managements in which the government would be represented.

Under Federal Supervision. The other plan put forth is for the roads to operate individually and privately, competing for service, but under the supervision of a government agency to be known perhaps as the Department of Transportation, headed by a cabinet member. To this agency would be left largely the question of making proper rates, administering the common use of terminals and pooling of cars and, to a certain extent, the routing of freight traffic. Both plans would propose government supervision of railroad security issues.

These are only the barest outlines of the two ideas now developing in the minds of government officials, and both are subject to modification.

HONORS GENERAL PERSHING

King Ferdinand of Roumania Decorates American Commander.

Washington, Dec. 7.—King Ferdinand of Roumania has awarded the Cross of the Military Order of Michael the Brave to General Pershing.

The State department announced that the king had sent to General Pershing this telegram: "Wishing to give visible form to my feelings of profound gratitude for the gallant part displayed by the United States troops in the victory of right and justice, I beg you sir, to accept the second class of my military Order of Michael the Brave as a token of sincere admiration and friendship."

TO PRESENT BRITISH CASE

Lord Robert Cecil Will Manage League of Nations Plan.

London, Dec. 6.—Lord Robert Cecil, former assistant secretary of states for foreign affairs, has been asked by the government to take charge of the British section of the peace congress which is to deal with the question of a league of nations.

"I cordially accepted the invitation," said Lord Robert. "There is no better work I would readily do for my country than to get up the British case, and state it at this conference. In favor of the greatest political and social reform it is possible to achieve in the interests of mankind."

FAMOUS UNITS WILL REMAIN

Veteran Divisions May Stay in Europe Until Peace Comes.

Washington, Dec. 6.—Secretary Baker gave it as his personal opinion that none of the veteran divisions of the American army in France would return home before peace formally is declared. He indicated that the tried fighting men would compose the bulk of the force to be kept in Europe for the present.

Heretofore the understanding has been that the Rainbow division and two or three other famous units would be brought home soon, leaving their places to be filled by some of the newcomers.

GERMANS ASTONISHED

Cannot Understand Noninterference Policy of U. S. Forces.

Lack of Harshness of American Army of Occupation Source of Wonder to Inhabitants.

With the American Army in Prussia, Dec. 6.—Americans now exercise authority over several hundred thousand Germans. The Teutons are accepting this situation quietly and are not finding the authority onerous. Astonishment is often expressed at the Americans' lack of harshness and policy of noninterference.

Normal life is going on in occupied territory and peasants are plowing the fields as the troops march past. Factories are humming with activity.

The Americans are gradually taking over supervision of the telegraph, telephone and postal systems. American trains carrying supplies are arriving at Treves. This traffic does not interfere with regular passenger trains.

Under the terms of the armistice Germany will pay the expenses of the Third army. The Americans, therefore, are giving receipts for all requisitions and billets, which will be collected from the German government. The burghers of the villages are co-operating in assigning billets. Decrees have been issued ordering the surrender of all arms and ammunition. The people in some towns have already turned over their guns and receipts have been given them.

Corps and division headquarters are generally established in schoolhouses or other public buildings. The only untoward incident recently reported occurred when some school children in the little village of Scheich threw decayed vegetables at American officers. The latter ignored the affair. The most advanced elements of the Third army have occupied the towns of Wittlich, Berncastel and Zettlinger.

OFFICERS CHEER KAISER

German Militarists First Put Revolutionists to Rout.

Amsterdam, Dec. 6.—Serious fighting has occurred in Kreuznach, in which revolutionists were defeated by army officers, it was reported here.

Officers forced the revolutionists, at the point of pistols, to haul down the red flag. Following the removal of their wounded, the officers cheered the former kaiser.

SENATORS WON'T GO ABROAD

Cummings Resolution is Unanimously Disapproved by Senates.

Washington, Dec. 6.—By unanimous vote, the senate foreign relations committee disapproved the resolution of Senator A. B. Cummings of Iowa, republican, proposing to send a senate committee to Paris for the peace conference.

GLASS TO SUCCEED McADOO

Will Become Secretary of Treasury On December 16th.

Washington, Dec. 6.—Representative Carter Glass of Virginia was nominated by President Wilson to be secretary of the treasury. Mr. Glass will go into office on Dec. 16 under an agreement with Secretary W. G. McAdoo, whose resignation was accepted by the president to take effect upon the appointment and qualification of his successor.

Prussian Professor Peeved.

The number of women entering German universities increased from 3,633 to 6,527 last winter. The number at the University of Berlin alone grew from 880 to 1,322. Professor von Wilamowitz-Moellendorf of the University of Berlin, and his colleagues, do not like this development, and he had no hesitation about speaking energetically and sarcastically about it in the Prussian parliament. It seems that although the Berlin professors still begin their lectures with "Gentlemen," their hearers are almost exclusively women. The speech in question was an argument for lowering the university standards for men while using the utmost severity towards women who wish to learn. Wilamowitz sarcastically observed that the universities have been turned into girls' schools and that a very considerable number of the women in attendance were nothing but little girls in short frocks. These girls get into the university by reason of certificates which, Wilamowitz says, have no value whatever. He adds that the result is to reduce the Berlin professors to the grade and duties of fourth-form masters in the secondary schools.

Never Take Your Troubles to Bed.

I know a man who is aging very rapidly from his business and family worries. I frequently travel morning and evening to and from the city with him, and instead of looking fresh and rejuvenated in the morning he actually looks older and more careworn than he did the night before. This is because he takes his troubles to bed with him and falls asleep worried and depressed. Instead of practicing mental chemistry and neutralizing or driving them out by the peace thought, the harmony and love thoughts, he lets these vicious mental devils, which are playing such havoc in his life, work all night in his brain. And, of course, they poison his blood, deplete his vitality and cut wrinkles deeper and deeper every night.—From "Love's Way," by Orison Swett Marden.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. They are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. His efforts to banish it brought out these little olive-colored tablets.

These pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel, but to let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place. Dr. Edwards' Most headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "lumpy" and "heavy." Note how they "clear" clouded brain and how they "perk up" the spirits. 10c and 25c a box. All druggists.

At Brainerd he engaged in law practice and struggled to overcome physical defects so as to be able to re-enlist.

He received his education at the University of St. Louis, graduating with high honors in the law department.

BRAINERD'S ODDEST STORIES OF TODAY

This one is a story on J. M. McCloskey which some kind friend sent in. It's all about how he got a good dinner.

Some time last summer he got the invitation. He was alone at home at the time and answered the telephone and received the invitation and answered "Sure, I'll be over."

Thanksgiving day, bright and early as they say in the story books, he was on his way to his friend and when he arrived he found he had made the wrong house. Being a boiler-maker he had got the name wrong and he never was able to find who had invited him.

But that didn't spoil his Thanksgiving day. He just stayed where he was.

"I had a good dinner any way," he said.

W. H. Mayo motored to Osage the other day on business and before leaving his home prepared a gallon pail of water to take with him for the purpose of refilling the radiator in his Chevrolet, which leaks. Turning around to put his gloves on, in a hurry he picked up a gallon pail of syrup and started off. Just at the outskirts of town he went for the supposed pail of water and to his surprise found it to be Karo syrup.

Why Called "Cloves."

The word "clove" has come down from the French word "cloque" which means a nail, because of the resemblance, partly real and partly fanciful which the dried clove bears to a nail.

COMMUNITY DRIVE FOR MEMBERSHIP

To be Inaugurated by the Chamber of Commerce Commencing Week of December 8th

TO BE A RED HOT CAMPAIGN

Union Labor Invited to Join Chamber, Secretary to Make Personal Appeal to Men

The big community drive for memberships to be put on by the Brainerd Chamber of Commerce will be inaugurated the week of December 8th, if the suggestions of the president and secretary to be placed before the special meeting of the Advisory Board and membership committee tonight are adopted. It will be a red hot campaign for memberships and will not be permitted to drag along and be pushed aside for other campaigns, as has been the lamentable experience of the community organization in the past. Every man who has an unselfish interest in the future progress of Brainerd as a city and Crow Wing county generally, will be invited to join this organization.

Year's Work Outlined.

In the program for another year, there is much constructive work to be accomplished. This work will include co-operation on the part of the Chamber in the improvement of city streets and roads leading into the city, the resumption of free auction and market days for the farmers, the bringing to Brainerd of desirable conventions, co-operation with labor in the annual picnic, planned by the unions each year and in every way possible, securing positions for returned soldiers in Crow Wing county and the big problems which every community must confront in the readjustment period following the war.

Chamber Privileges.

A number of desirable publications have been added to the reading table of the Chamber recently, newspaper files have been ordered and a rack to hold the same will be constructed by the manual training department of the high school, under the supervision of the manual training teacher.

It is aimed to make this reading table one of the best and most up to date in the city and it is being freely used by members at present. Parties who have magazines they are not using, are invited to bring current numbers of the same to the secretary's office for use in the reading room.

Billiard Tournament.

The special hall equipment will be placed in first class condition. The billiard and pool tables are to be re-covered and a tournament will be started soon, with handsome billiard cues as a prize for the winners. The cigar stand has been filled with popular brands, including Brainerd-made cigars and everything generally has been made ready for the comfort and entertainment of Chamber of Commerce members.

Union Labor Invited

In the campaign, the officers of the club earnestly desire that the men of the shops and mills be approached and brought into the organization. It has been found that any differences which may have existed in the past between the shop men and the down town business men, are in almost every case a result of a misunderstanding and lack of personal contact, in a social way. The secretary has always maintained since he came to Brainerd, that these differences can be adjusted, if men are brought into closer touch with each other, and that when Smith bumps elbows with Jones, he finds Jones a pretty good fellow after all.

Lincoln Optimistic.

Mr. Lincoln said to the Dispatch today: "I believe I can go before the boys of the shops and mills and interest them in the work our organization is trying to do for Brainerd. I have never had any difficulties elsewhere in interesting the man who toils in this line of work. The union men of this city are intelligent and capable fellows, and those I have met personally, I have found to be business-like men who, if they once know the ins and outs of a proposition and then take hold of it, are certain to be an important factor in making it a success. I want these boys with us, and I am going to put the proposition up to them personally, if I remain in Brainerd another year."

Every director and member of the membership committee is expected to attend this meeting tonight. Personal letters have been sent to each, and the officers will not consider any slackers in this proposition. The Chamber will no longer step aside for everything from an ideal day of fishing to a band concert or some other admittedly worthy entertainment, for the directors maintain that it is very foolish to "kill the

Card of Thanks

We wish to express our appreciation of the assistance tendered us and friendliness shown during my brother A. R. Lindberg's sickness and last hours. We wish to heartily thank Mrs. J. L. Ellis and George Keough of Oak Lawn for their help which gave him such relief, also other neighbors and friends who so willingly offered to help.

And the B. R. C. of A. Say Brothers! It did us good to see so many of us at the funeral.

Algot was determined to create for himself a self-supporting home, and he toiled earnestly and faithfully to do it—at the shops during the day and on his home in the evenings.

He was deeply loved by his family.

Very gratefully,

WRITES FROM FRANCE

Lawrence M. Clark Describes Barrage, the Charge and the Prisoners Brought in

In a letter from France, Lawrence (Blackie) Clark describes a barrage fire. He writes:

I have been in the big American drive. I have seen the big battle prepared, the big barrage that preceded the fight and I wasn't far behind when the dough-boys went over the top. The battle hadn't been on two hours when the prisoners started coming in.

I saw the first bunch, there were sixteen of them. I saw the wounded taken care of. Although there were not many and those that were hurt took it cool. Every one had a big smile.

But I guess that old Fritz found out that he bumped into somebody when he tried to stop the Amer. boys. They wouldn't stop. I had been on detached service with a carpenter detail making gas curtains in dug-outs. I joined the company at noon of the big battle. That night just as I got in bed I was called out to go with the French tanks. I followed these tanks all that night and the next day. We crossed the land that early in the morning had been in possession of the huns. But never again.

The next night we were sent back to the company which had followed the advance as fast as possible. We had lots of rain and the roads were bad. But our bunch soon had traffic moving and the artillery was moved on. You can't imagine the work there is to get supplies up to the trenches, not only the dough-boys need supplies, but the big guns. I have been up pretty close to the huns the last few days, but I don't suppose I will have a chance to go again, as I am helping one of the wagoners now. I got two horses to take care of, but it's a good job.

In a later letter Blackie writes:

We are still on this front, but things have quieted down a little. But the big guns are sending greetings to each other. Some of the boys asked me this morning what I thought of the barrage last night. I was sleeping and never heard a thing. You can see I am getting used to the noise. I was telling some of the boys when I got out of this and home, I will have to get somebody to pound on a tub or something to put me to sleep.

I am sure getting some experience and seeing lots of things that I never dreamed of. The huns sure left this part of the country in an awful hurry. They left shells by the thousands. The big guns they could not take. They broke or took parts of them such as the breech lock or sighting instruments. We cleaned out about a dozen dug-outs that were just packed with big gun fodder.

The boys captured a railroad line and five gasoline engines. I guess the huns expected to stay here a long time, by the looks of things. But they left in a hurry.

Well, I am entitled to wear a gold stripe now as soon as I can when I can buy one.

Deadlines in City Streets.

For the purpose of trying out the idea before adopting it generally, New York city officials have laid white lines of tile and marble, six inches wide, in the pavement at certain street intersections to serve as deadlines for vehicles. Considerable trouble in connection with the control of traffic by the police has been experienced in trying to get motorists to stop at an imaginary line. With a broad, white marking set in the pavement, there can be no mistake as to where cars should stop. Both tile and marble have been used in making the trial marks to ascertain which is the more durable. Popular Mechanics Magazine.

London, Dec. 3.—Reuters Limited has received from a Greek source figures showing that in the spring of 1914 the Turks deported 700,000 Greeks, of whom 500,000 are now refugees in Greece. From the beginning of the war to the end of 1917 the Turks deported 2,140,000 Greeks and Armenians of whom 900,000 Armenians and 700,000 Greeks have been massacred and 200,000 mobilized Greeks have been put to death or have died of their sufferings.

AN OLD RECIPE TO DARKEN HAIR

Sage Tea and Sulphur Turns Gray, Faded Hair Dark and Glossy.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients, at very little cost. Everybody uses this preparation now, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

FACES BIG JOB IN COLLECTING TAXES

COMMISSIONER OF INTERNAL REVENUE PREPARING TO ACT UNDER NEW MEASURE.

M'ADOO'S SECRET WELL KEPT

No One Ever Surmised That Secretary of Treasury Might Resign Until Official Announcement of His Action Was Made.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, Dec. 6.—Daniel C. Roper, commissioner of internal revenue, has another big job on his hands. It is the task of collecting six billion dollars under the pending revenue bill. Of course Commissioner Roper does not yet know what the bill will provide when it is finally enacted into law, but he has been taking the preliminary steps in anticipation of most of its provisions, and to a great extent he is in readiness.

One of the great difficulties before the commissioner in the collection of this huge sum during the next fiscal year is to have the people thoroughly understand what is required of them and also to know what changes have been made since the last great collection of revenue was made under the former bill. The commissioner has got to get his information to a great many people through the papers of the country and as soon as he knows definitely what is needed he will put the publicity machinery in motion. Meanwhile he is perfecting his organization for the most gigantic task in the way of collecting revenue ever attempted by any government.

In all cabinet changes that have been made there never has been a time when the secret was so well kept as that in regard to the resignation of Secretary McAdoo from the treasury department. From the time a president appoints his cabinet until the end of his term there are constant rumors of cabinet changes and it has been the habit of many Washington correspondents when having nothing else to do to write a cabinet story. But no one ever surmised or suggested that Secretary McAdoo was going to resign, save when the suggestion was made that he should be a candidate for governor of New York. Whatever discussions may have taken place and however many men may have known of the proposed resignation of Secretary McAdoo, not a hint escaped even in a confidential way, so that it could be whispered about from person to person. It is another evidence of the success of the president in keeping secret such things as he does not wish to become public.

During a discussion in the house at the close of the session as to possible adjournment and the business of congress, Congressman Madden of Illinois suggested that as the president would be absent when congress was again in session there might just as well be a holiday recess, as the president could not be here to sign bills even if they were passed.

"Why not hold the sessions of the house and senate in France?" asked Ben Fairchild of New York.

"It has been suggested that we might commandeer 5 or 6 battleships and take the congress over at the same time the president is there," replied Madden.

"I thank the gentleman from Illinois for his suggestion," merrily remarked Leader Kitchin. "I had not really thought about it, but before we meet in December I will give thought and consideration to the suggestion and see if we cannot arrange to have congress go right along at the same time."

"They have taken over the cables," went on Madden, "and are taking the bureau of information to France, and we may save expense by going along and it may be a wise thing to do."

"Someone back of me suggests that they might cable us what to do every day," remarked Kitchin, and the house enjoyed the allusion which was made because it is often said that that body as well as the senate has been taking orders from the White House.

It is quite often that governors are elected to the senate and sometimes, when they are holding the office of governor. At such times the governors certify their own election to the senate. Three new senators have been so certified who will take their seats March 4th next. Governor Keyes of New Hampshire has certified to the election of himself as senator from that state, and Governor Edge of New Jersey issues a similar certificate. Governor Stanley of Kentucky is another in the same class. There are one or two men now in the senate who were certified in the same manner when they were elected.

During the day of the adjournment there was some discussion about a holiday recess and the necessity for not wasting any time with an adjournment, in order to avoid an extra session. Leader Kitchin took occasion to remark that, "If we are diligent, work hard, rush the appropriation bills, we may avoid an extra session." At the same time a great many men in congress doubt whether it will be possible to avoid an extra session.

KAISER WILL BE TRIED

Great Britain Will Insist on Stern Justice.

Other Leaders Responsible for Atrocities on Land and Sea Will Be Prosecuted.

London, Dec. 6.—Sir Auckland Geddes, president of the local government board and minister of national service, in a public address, said that the line of policy advocated by the coalition government was a peace, which, so far as the enemy powers were concerned, should be based on stern justice and so far as those men who planned and started the war were concerned should be founded on justice of the nature meted out in the highest courts of the land.

Such men as the former German emperor, Enver Pasha and the former rulers of Bulgaria and Austria, would be placed on trial, and if found guilty, their lives would be forfeited. "Men guilty of unspeakable atrocities upon our prisoners and upon the civilian inhabitants of the invaded lands," he continued, "must stand trial, and if they are condemned, must suffer death."

It had to be proved how far the commanders of submarines acted under orders, which they had to carry out under pain of death, or how far they acted on their own volition, he pointed out, but if the atrocities at sea were committed on the volition of individual commanders, he declared, they too, must suffer the extreme penalty.

GUILTY MUST NOT ESCAPE

British Premier Favors Placing German Rulers On Trial.

London, Dec. 6.—David Lloyd George, premier, in the election campaign gave a restatement of his policy, in which he declared the men responsible for the war cannot escape because their heads were crowned, but they must be tried by an international court. Mr. Lloyd George also declared himself in favor of the expulsion and exclusion of all enemy aliens.

PRAYERS FOR PEACE ENVOYS

Pope Sends Encyclical Letter to Catholic Episcopate.

Rome, Dec. 6.—Pope Benedict has addressed an encyclical letter to the Catholic episcopate throughout the world, exhorting them to offer universal public prayers so that Providence may guide the members of the approaching peace conference and give the world peace founded on true principles of Christian justice and love among men.

Would Amend Criminal Code.

Washington, Dec. 6.—Drastic and sweeping changes in the United States criminal code are recommended by Attorney General Gregory in his annual report of the Department of Justice. The need of those changes, Mr. Gregory says, were shown glaringly in the war activities of the department and most of them are needed whether the nation is at war or peace. The department, the report explains, has faced the greatest task in its history in the last 18 months.

World's Greatest Troopsman.

One of the devoted women who have not spared themselves at the emergency aid rooms told this story among the flying needles the other day to her co-workers. A letter from the front has brought the intelligence:

A pompous German major had fallen into the hands of our valorous Pennsylvania troops, and after they had questioned him, he ventured to ask them for information.

"How many men have you on this side of the water?" he inquired.

"Two million," answered a young lieutenant.

"How did you get them over?" was the incredulous query of the Hun.

"One boat brought them all over," was the answer.

The German stared. "How so? What boat was that?"

The American gave the German a searching look. "The Lusitania," he answered, quietly.—Philadelphia Leader.

One awful legacy which the Germans have left to the Belgians, one thing which the Belgians have in greater quantity than they had before the Hun overran their country, is tuberculosis. The Red Cross is beginning a campaign to stamp out the white plague, which has increased largely in those portions of Belgium that were occupied by the Germans until recently. It is said that the disease has gained victims especially among young women who were obliged to work in munition and industrial plants. Truly German kultur is a wonderful thing.

LIFT OFF CORNS!

Drop Freezone on a touchy corn, then lift that corn off with fingers

Doesn't hurt a bit! Drop a little Freezone on an aching corn, instantly that corn stops hurting, then you lift it right out. Yes, magic! No humbug!

A tiny bottle of Freezone costs but a few cents at any drug store, but is sufficient to remove every hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and the calluses, without soreness or irritation. Freezone is the sensational discovery of a Cincinnati genius. It is wonderful.

DRINK HOT TEA FOR A BAD COLD

Get a small package of Hamburg Breat-Ten at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a teacup full at any time during the day or before retiring. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores of the skin, relieving congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus driving a cold from the system.

RUB BACKACHE AND LUMBAGO RIGHT OUT

Rub Pain and Stiffness away with a small bottle of old honest St. Jacobs Liniment

When your back is sore and lame or lumbago, sciatica or rheumatism to you stiffened up, don't suffer!
